Poco Pine Bar Flash

Poco Pine Bar Flash's neck was injured as a baby so he was unable to be shown in any event. However we did try him in cutting to see for ourselves what he would do. He met all of our expectations and more. His babies have proven to be some kind of cow horses and more. One of his first daughters won Reserve World Champion Team Penning; another colt won money in NCHA cutting, barrel racing, team roping and the list goes on. You train these ponies and you know they have the ability to do what you ask.

We ask you to look at his extended pedigree and you will see for yourself all of the world champions that are in it.

A Flash Son won the Ranch Horse Competition at the August Lufkin Horse Sale in Texas and sold for $10,000.
